Sunday 7th August 2022

The Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

After listening to today's Gospel, Being Ready for the Master's Return (Luke 12:35-40), consider Fr Henry Wansbrough's reflection.

Just before the reading above, Jesus has warned in St Luke's Gospel about the peril of worldly possession.

This is a danger about which Luke, writing to a prosperous audience, continually reminds his audience.

Then Jesus issues a series of exhortations to be alert for the final meeting with the Lord, and a series of blessings on those who are so ready. Luke does not have a great scene of a universal final judgement (as Matthew's Gospel does with the parable of the sheep and the goats). For Luke there is no need to wait for a great final judgement scene at the end of the world; instead, with his Greek frame of mind, he is more interested in the individual judgement (for each of these parables concerns a single individual who is rewarded or punished).

This is fully compatible with the notion that each individual's final judgement is at death, rather than all together at the end of the world. Most wonderful and startling is the promise (suggested by today's parable) that, after the Master's return at the judgement, he will himself serve the faithful servants.

How may we best be "ready" for the return of the Lord?

Dom Henry Wansbrough OSB

CAFOD'S FIX THE FOOD SYSTEM

Climate change, the pandemic and the rising prices of food & agricultural products as a result of the Ukraine crisis, have together revealed the fragility of our current global food system. These impacts are mostly felt in low-income countries, but they also have serious repercussions at home, where earlier this year 9% of the UK population were experiencing food insecurity. The current global food system is not working for both people and planet. But together we can play our part in re-thinking it, and challenging the imbalance of power so that it works for everyone.
